THE MPC CHARACTER TRAIT FOR JANUARY - FEBRUARY IS 'COURTESY'

Manningham has many individuals, groups and businesses which show courtesy to others. Like respect, courtesy highlights manners when the words "please", "sorry" and "thank you" are used.

MPC Awards:

During the latter part of 2015 awards were presented to two young sportsmen for demonstrating good character on and off the field and to three Secondary School students for demonstrating good character within their schools. At MPC's End of Year Celebration, President Lionel Allemand presented MPC Awards for exhibiting good character in Manningham to a number of individuals and a business. They are;

Casavini Restaurant – to Tony, Mary and Michael Mimmo for supporting and hosting Manningham Promoting Character Breakfasts and Luncheons and, more recently, MPC Committee Meetings.

Julie Eisenbise - a past Manningham Councillor has supported MPC since its inception. She has been a loyal and passionate supporter assisting it to flourish and dedicated to its ideals.

Gino Gammaldi - involved in the Melbourne Passion Play for sixteen years. He plays a significant role in the play, is Chairman of the Management Team and is known for his Loyalty and Honesty.

Ron Kitchingman OAM - a past Councillor and Mayor well known in Manningham for his Service to the community and long time support of MPC.

Geoff Kloot – recognized for his over thirty years with Neighbourhood Watch. He is the Co-ordinator of its activities and his involvement with the local Police and SES keeps him focused on the safety of others.

Bob Seiffert OAM - Manningham Council's CEO for many years supporting MPC's continuation over time. He helped MPC achieve its goal of promoting and recognizing good character within the City of Manningham.
