THE MPC CHARACTER TRAIT FOR NOVEMBER–DECEMBER 2011 IS 'TRUTHFULNESS'

Statue of Veritas outside Courts Building

In Roman mythology, Veritas, meaning truth, was the goddess of truth. Truthfulness was considered one of the main virtues any good Roman should possess.

Truth and honesty show themselves in various ways. They characterize the person of just dealing, the faithful persons of business, the persons who will not deceive you to their own advantage. Honesty is the plainest and humblest manifestation of the principle of truth. Full measures, just weights, true samples, full service, strict fulfillment of engagements, are all indispensable to persons of character. (Extract from www.oldandsold.com/articles30)
